From Milet Publishing Ltd : Mevlana and Konya before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Mevlana and Konya:

Konya s a city in the Central Anatolia Region of Turkey. It is the seventh most populous city in Turkey. Excavations have shown that the region was inhabited during the Late Copper Age, around 3000 BC. Saint Paul and Barnabas preached in Iconium during the First Missionary Journey in about 47-48 AD. In Christian legend, it was also the birthplace of Saint Thecla. The Mevlna Museum, located in Konya, Turkey, is the mausoleum of Jalal ad-Din Muhammad Rumi, a Sufi mystic also known as Mevlna or Rumi. It was also the dervish lodge (tekke) of the Mevlevi order, better known as the whirling dervishes. It's construction was finished in 1274. The adjoining small mosque (Masjid) is now used for the exhibition of a collection of old, illustrated Korans and extremely valuable prayer rugs. There is also a box, decorated with nacre, containing the Holy Beard of Muhammad.
