This is the second book by Tom Marshall exploring the benefits of periodic extended rentals as an alternative to owning a second home, while providing an example in his travel journal account of a summer spent in Slovenia. Tom Marshall and his wife Elysee retired from the business world, moved permemntly to Naples, Florida, and were faced with the "baby boomer" question of whether to sell their property up North or keep it as a second residence. The Marshalls took the unusual decision to sell out and " make the world their second home." They have traveled every summer to a different part of the world and established a residence for three or four months. This exciting travel journal recounts their adventures in and around Slovenia, including excursions to Hungary, Venice, Italy and Vienna,

Austria. Tom also describes their alternative lifestyle for retiring baby boomers.
