mapping agency:

Whether you're walking or driving along the streets of London, here's an atlas that can get you where you want to go. Even the emergency services and local authorities use it! The superb mapping, which uses an extra large scale of 3-1/2 inches for every mile, includes every named street, with all the big and small sights, and such important locations as theaters, museums, historical houses, universities, libraries, hostels, hospitals, police stations, railway stations, and shopping centers. It will tell you where you can park a car, find a post office, and locate the closest subway stop. From the tourist spots that entice people round the world to out-of-the-way little corner shops, all the city's wonders will be at your command.
